Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a valuable medium for advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can afford to pay for space to put his goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate part of the cost of doing business; its stock in trade, and advertising expenses are to be reckoned in what part of the paper they appear.

THIS SPACE BELONGS TO

Hechinger & Co.

They are too busy today to say anything about the great stock of

It will pay you to investigate.

Fancy Goods Fads.

If you're looking for anything new you'll find it here. We have a great stock of Fancy Jeweled Belts at 25¢. Leather Belts from 10¢ to 50¢; and the latest "fad" of Bell Buckles and Slides at 25¢ a yard. We have also the Velvet Beading to fit the Slides at 30¢ and 35¢ a yard. NEWSY NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Pacific passed up with a tow of empties for Pittsburgh.

The Pittsburgh towboats, Coal City, Peacock No. 2, Tom Dodsorth and Dick Fulton passed down with coal for Louisville.

Captain William Richardson of Parsonsburg has sold the Bob Bialard to the Ironon and Ashland Transportation Company for $5,000.

The Government has advertised for 8,000 tons of coal (or barges) for use at the Coeur d'Alene and Portland cans. This is the amount consumed at that place every year.

The rivermen contend that the Government should dredge the bar outside the proposed dam instead of Lock No. 4 in order that boats be furnished an uninterrupted passageway.

The Pittsburgh Coal Exchange has approved the plans of the Bellair and Benwood Bridge, which will span the Ohio river at Bellair. The channel span will be $50 feet wide. This is practically the first victory for the river men for wider bridge spans.

It is definitely settled that the Hudson will run in the Coney Island trade again this summer. It was given up last year in defeat satisfaction due to the past two years that Captain Lee Brooks was determined to secure her again. A contract, which turns the Hudson over to the Coney Island Company for the season, was signed a day or two ago.

DELICATE WORK.

Dr. T. M. Pearce going to the Front in His Chosen Profession.

The following is taken from The Union Agent of Covington and is a neat compliment to a Mayville young man:

"Our representative has in the past few days been a witness to the various stages of a delicate piece of work that was being performed at the Covington Dental Parlor. The patient was a young man, a son of a neighbor of Pike street and Madison avenue, a resident of Columbus, O., a gentleman 70 years of age, having the particular name of 'At the Devil's Eye'. He was kicked by a horse, the nasal bone or bridge being broken, rendering the surface flat and on a level with the floor. A small portion of the nasal bone was broken off and a valvula a lata now was made and placed into position. The skill displayed in the performance of this work was remarkable, no one so successful that the surgical work can be detected at short range, the blending of the flesh now being in such perfect harmony with the complexion of the patient."

Dr. Pearce is a son of Mr. Bert L. Pearce, and his many friends of this city will be pleased to learn of the success with which he is meeting.

MASONIC PROPERTY.

The Court of Appeals Decides That It Cannot Escape Taxation.

The Court of Appeals has rendered a decision reversing the Campbell Circuit Court in the case of the City of Newport vs. the Masonic Temple Association.

The Court holds that the property of the Association except that used for Lodge purposes is subject to taxation, and that the section for purely charitable purposes is subject to taxation, and that the section of its charter granted many years ago exempting all of the property of the Association was repealed by the new Constitution.

And yet the Court holds that certain schools and other institutions that are conducted for pay are not liable to taxation.

WORDS OF WELCOME.

An Excerpt From the Address of Dr. A. G. Browning.

GOOD WORDS FOR OUR GUESTS.

At the recent meeting in this city of the Kentucky State Medical Society an open session was held at the First Baptist Church, on which occasion Dr. A. G. Browning delivered the opening address.

It is with pleasure that THE LEDGER presents to its readers a part of the Doctor's remarks:

"With a measure of pride have I pardoned, many a claim to be held in high esteem, within my borders, in time past; but even then I have detected terrors representative of all that is best in religion, benevolence, science and art. The world has been a field for me to explore, and I have found no more pleasant sojourn pleasing epocha by willing hands marked with the whitest of all traditional white stones. But I'm very sure I am not the only public-spirited man to assure you that none has our city's greeting gone out with more glad glad than you, gentlemen of Kentucky.

Many a man in our city, in his youth, And 'tis most fitting, most properly fit for us to prominently represent our country, we have been bequeathed by illustrious ancestry—proud peers of hereditary nobility, which hold their heads high, and their names are as immortal as the picture Doctor MacLure—immortal as MacLure himself and his wife.

MATTERS OF TONNAGE.

Size of Some of Our Battleships Compared With Ohio River Boats.

The size of all warships is given in tons of displacement, the usual manner of estimating the size of all vessels.

The displacement is practically the weight of the entire ship and cargo. It is estimated by figuring the submerged part of the hull and calculating the weight of the water displaced thereby.

The Queen City, well known along the Ohio, has a rating of 1,400 tons. She is 235 feet in length, with 44 foot beam and 61 feet depth of hold.

This tonnage would figure very small among battleships. The Iowa, for instance, measures over 11,000 tons, and draws 24 feet of water.

The Queen City is about the same tonnage as the little gunboat Wilmington, that got into a scrape on the coast of Cuba, one of the smallest gunboats in the Navy.

The Winslow, the torpedo boat that was injured, is not as big as the ordinary ferryboat.

The Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts and other first-class battleships, are eight times as large as the Queen City. The Texas is nearly five times as large. New York and Brooklyn are more than twice as large. The Atlanta, Baltimore, Cincinnati and Boston are more than twice as large.

Attention!

All members of Escort Squad must be at Masonic Temple this evening at 7 o'clock sharp in full uniform except chaplains.

T. A. KEITH, C. G.

The Annual Concilie of Knights Templars, which meets in this city next week, promises to be the event of the year. Hundreds of visiting K. T.'s with their wives and daughters will be present, and one of the essential things needed will be emblematic cards. You want to know what we can do for you.
